

GWP Consultants LLP is an independent consultancy partnership working in sustainable water and earth resources management in the UK and overseas and has the following position vacant.

GRADUATE ENGINEERING GEOLOGIST/GEOTECHNICAL ENGINEER

GWP is also seeking an enthusiastic and articulate graduate engineering geologist/geotechnical engineer, who is keen to develop their career and skills. If you have an inquisitive nature and like responsibility, we want to hear from you. The successful applicant will:

- have a BSc, BEng (2:1 or higher) in Geology, Engineering Geology or similar;
- ideally will have a MSc in Engineering Geology, Geotechnical Engineering or similar;
- have had some exposure to both geological and geotechnical logging of soil and rock to BS5930;
- be comfortable working in a team or on your own;
- be eligible to work in the UK.

Your role will include undertaking desk studies, supervising site investigations, CQA site supervision, scheduling laboratory testing, compiling and analysing test results, producing technical reports and other matters related to technical support for the extractive and waste industries.

It would be advantageous if you have some experience of some of the following software (but training will be given as necessary): Rocscience suite incl. Dips, Slide, RocFall, Swedge and RS2, LSS DTM surface modelling, Holebase, AutoCAD, ArcGIS, Blast/ShapeMetrix3D.

A full UK driving licence and your own vehicle is essential. The work will comprise both office and site work, either at green field sites or active and abandoned quarries, surface mines, landfills or construction related excavations within the UK and, on occasions, overseas.

Further information about GWP and the range of work that we do can be found at www.gwp.uk.com, or call us on 01608 810374.

GWP offers a competitive salary and a staff benefits package including private medical, a workplace pension scheme and 25 days annual leave.
